FAQ'S FROM PARTNERS

Who can provide verification that an applicant is at your school and has access to at least 15 hours a week in a classroom?

A: Principal or other school leader from your campus/district, as this is not a formal employment verification.

Can an employee apply to Reach if they have already earned a bachelor's degree?

A: Our program is designed for applicants who have earned no more than 60 credits, an associate's degree or less.

If a candidate is no longer employed at your school/district, who should be notified?

A: The candidate should notify their Candidate Services Advisor immediately of the change. Partners can also notify a member of the Partnerships Team.

Can Reach share a candidate's academic progress with a partner or employer?

A: No, FERPA laws do not allow us to release academic information. We recommend employers have a signed agreement with their employee stating expectations in advance.

What level is Reach authorized for certification in Arkansas?

A: The candidate will be certified for grades K-6.

FAQ'S:

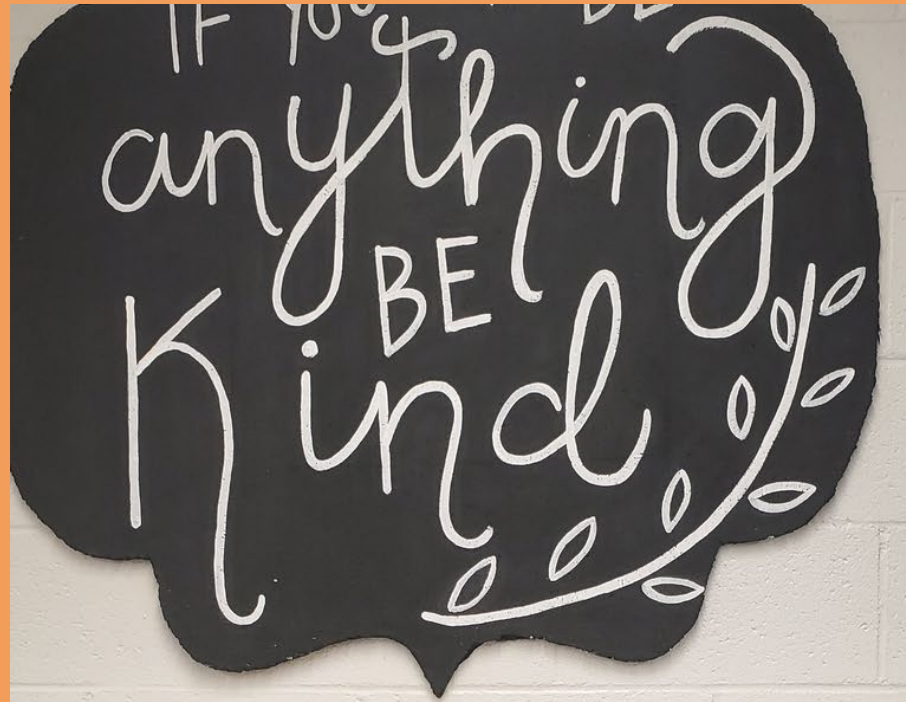

REACH BILLING AND PAYMENT

- What is cost of the program for a candidate at Reach?
A: The cost of attendance is $900 per academic year or $75 a month. We are able to offer this to candidates by using a blend of grant, scholarship, and private philanthropy dollars. Each applicant agrees to submit the FAFSA annually, however income does not determine cost, each candidate is offered the $900 a year cost.
- What is the actual cost of the bachelor's degree program?
A: The full program cost is approximately $14,000 per academic year.
- Who should the district contact if planning to pay towards a candidate's cost of attendance?
A: Fill out the intake form or communicate plans directly by emailing Bursar@reach.edu.
- When will partners be invoiced for candidate bills?
A: Beginning next year January 15/August 15 of each year, however partners must provide the candidate(s) info before the deadline to ensure candidate is not billed.
